

Like a Tree

Db/Eb Ab Ebm Ab Db2 Db

1. Like a tree that's plant - ed by a stream
2. Like a two - edged sword of fear and hate, 3. Like the arms of God held op - en wide,

Bbm Eb Fm Eb/Bb Bb Eb Db/Eb

so the cross un - veils God's dream to be so the cross re - veals the fate of a so the cross holds those who've cried for the

Ab Ebm Gb/Ab Db2 Db

food and shade for ev - ery - one vio - lent, a - pa - thet - ic race heal - ing of cre - a - tion's thorns

B $\flat$ m A $\flat$ /C D $\flat$  E $\flat$  sus E $\flat$  A $\flat$ starved and wear-ied — by the sun. Like a hell - bent to — ab - hor God's grace. Like a and for those tossed by life's storms. Like a D $\flat$  A $\flat$ /C D $\flat$  D dim A $\flat$ /E $\flat$  C7/E Fm root that grows in - to a ce - dar tree, weap - on changed in - to a harm - less toy, warmth of a friend's time-ly strong em-brace,

B $\flat$ m A $\flat$ /C B $\flat$ /D E $\flat$  D $\flat$ /E $\flat$ so the cross stands might - il - y. Child-ren, so the cross, through Christ, brings joy. Child-ren, so the cross re - veals God's grace. Child-ren,

A $\flat$  E $\flat$ m G $\flat$ /A $\flat$  D $\flat$ see the strength of God dis-played. see the power of love dis-played. see God's gen-tle-ness dis-played.

B $\flat$ m A $\flat$ /C D $\flat$  E $\flat$  sus E $\flat$  A $\flat$

Will you come and rest be-neath its shade?
 Will you live by Christ, not by your blade?
 Will you live your life now un-a-fraid?